The Universal Draft

Old Aim of American Legion

Philip Murray, CIO president, in a statement from Atlanta, Ga., this week-end said his labor organization "would be unalterably opposed to regimentation of workers for the very reason that we don't believe it is necessary." In other words, the CIOer is opposed to a labor draft.

Yankees Hammer Japanese Bases in China Area

— War in Pacific

Chungking, Sept. 29 — (AP) — Bombers and fighters of the United States army air forces blasted Japanese bases and lines of communication west of the Salween river in southwest Yunnan province yesterday, inflicting considerable damage without the loss of a single plane, Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stillwell's headquarters announced today.

Numerous direct hits were scored on buildings at Mengshui and Tengchong, starting a number of fires, the bulletin said.

"Five separate groups of Japanese bombers were strafed when American planes swept along the Burma road to Wantung," the communiqué added. "Eight trucks were destroyed along the road and two Japanese tanks were seriously damaged in Yantung."

Saturday Stillwell's "Flying Dragoons" subjected the highway between Lufeng and Chufang to a violent strafing, destroying 10 enemy trucks and a staff-car. This assault, too, was carried out without loss.

The previous day American fliers aided the Japanese air base at Hanoi, French Indo-China, for the first time since Aug. 27, shooting down three of the enemy's now well-engined, two-seated 145 fighters.

A communiqué said that at least two more of these craft probably were destroyed and several others were damaged.

No American planes were lost.

It was the first time the Americans had encountered the 145, described by the pilots as a fast and maneuverable craft armed with a 20-millimeter cannon and two 13-millimeter gun forward, plus an additional gun operated by a rear gunner.

U. S. Has Lost 58 Ships Since Pearl Harbor

New York, Sept. 28 — (AP) — The United States has lost 58 fighting ships during the present war, an Associated Press review of official ship-loss announcements discloses.

Of this total, only one, the 1,100-ton destroyer Reuben James, was lost before Pearl Harbor. The James was torpedoed west of Iceland on Oct. 30, 1941, with the loss of 101 lives.

The Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor and subsequent enemy action in the Pacific and Atlantic resulted in the announced loss of 58 naval vessels whose known tonnage totaled 207,345 tons.

The house naval committee disclosed recently that the United States had 1,009,245 tons of fighting ships built since 1934 in service with 2,646,600 more under construction as part of the nation's expanding two-ocean navy.

Publisher Vote to Support President

Hot Springs, Sept. 28 — (AP) — The Southern Newspaper Publishers Association telegraphed President Roosevelt today that "you have our loyal support in all that is necessary" to winning the war.

The telegram:

"Southern Newspaper Publishers Association, representing 272 daily newspapers in fourteen southern states, extend their greetings and pledges of loyal support to you, our commander in chief. We believe we represent the profound belief and feeling of our people as well as of ourselves that winning the war is and should be our first aim and purpose and that you have our loyal support in all that is necessary to this end. Your leadership is an inspiration to your countrymen in their hour of greatest peril."

Gas rationing in the eastern states will jump the cost of operating your car from 10 cents a mile or less to about 25 cents.

A new substance that may be painted on ignition parts is said to be moisture proof and is supposed to prevent short circuiting by water.

RAF planes strafed Axis supply and ammunition columns along the Gambut-Bardia road west of the Egyptian battlefield yesterday but aerial activity generally was on a reduced scale, a British communiqué reported today.

The bulletin reported the loss of one British plane and said a German aircraft was shot down last night in the Suez canal area.

FDR Agrees to Delay Oct. 1 Inflation Action

— Washington

Washington, Sept. 28 — (P) — President Roosevelt was reported today to have agreed to delay any executive move to control the cost of living until Congress completes action on pending mail-inflation legislation, even if the final draft does not reach him by his Oct. 1 deadline.

In his you-do-it-or-I-will message of Sept. 7 the president told congress that present controls would not hold the cost of food and clothing down beyond Oct. 1, and requested action by that time.

The Legion called its policy "The Universal Draft"—proposing that whenever war compelled the government to draft men for the armed forces the same draft method should apply with equal force to men working in the armament factories and to the capital which finances those factories. Men should be treated equally, and capital should be treated the same as the nation's man-power.

So the Legion held, in its declaration after World War No. 1—and while there must always be differences of opinion regarding the meaning of such a general policy only to you, a member of the Legion for 22 years but as a close friend and associate of the late O. L. Bodenhamer of El Dorado, National Commander of the Legion.

All of us understood the tragic inequalities worked upon men and their business and the result of war. It was manifestly unjust for one class of men to be called into a form at soldier's pay while another class of men drew high wages at war-time jobs, and yet another class, the factory owners and financiers, earned huge profits out of war.

It is unlikely, in view of the prevailing war-tax rates, that the final class will reap any great financial gain of the present conflict. But neither this nor the majority of Americans are satisfied with the performance that politically-organized labor has given thus far in World War No. 2, providing the only important division of public opinion that exists in the whole war effort.

What Philip Murray, chief of the CIO, says is of little consequence by comparison with what he does. The same goes for the AFL's slogan of national labor. So long as the mail-inflation services are compelled to post $21-a-day wages for union plumbers and electricians just so long will there be a deep-seated unrest in this country, of course, which has already run four million men into uniform at soldier's pay, and which has seen the middle class and other small-salaried people of America faced with a crushing tax load.

While this condition lasts, Mr. Murray is, unwittingly, inviting the government to invoke the very labor draft which he says he is opposed to.

Further, says Mr. Murray is inviting a lot more trouble both for his organization and the entire nation after the war is over and victory is won—for when the soldiers come home they, who served for soldier's pay, will demand an accounting around the economic conference table.

They got it after the last war—and they'll get it again.

And the lightness or severity of the accounting will be determined by just how far Mr. Murray and his associates have permitted to go before an iron-clad government steps in and dispels the fairy-story illusion that war owes any wages at all to those who make munitions for the common defense.

Wholesale Liquor Plan Is Endorsed

Little Rock, Sept. 28 — (P) — Sponsors of a state-operated wholesale liquor system today had the endorsement of Revenue Commissioner E. H. Hardin.

Commenting on Craighead County Representative Ivie Spencer's decision, he would seek to have the next legislature put the state in the wholesale liquor business.

From the experience and observation I have had during my two years as revenue commissioner, it is my opinion that control of liquor at its source as the states of Alabama and Virginia are doing through state-operated wholesale houses is best from an administrative angle."

The 1941 House passed a bill embodying the plan but the Senate rejected it.

U. S. Bombers Raid Ships at Bengasi

Cairo, Sept. 28 — (P) — Heavy bombers of the American air forces raided shipping in Bengasi harbor last night, dropping bombs which damaged converted wrecks being used by the Axis as landing stages, it was announced today.

RAF planes strafed Axis supply and ammunition columns along the Gambut-Bardia road west of the Egyptian battlefield yesterday but aerial activity generally was on a reduced scale, a British communiqué reported today.

The bulletin reported the loss of one British plane and said a German aircraft was shot down last night in the Suez canal area.

Americans in Occupied France Reported Seized by Germans As Hostages

Berne, Switzerland, Sept. 28 — (AP) — The Germans have seized some 300 Americans in occupied France as potential hostages, diplomatic quarters here learned today, in a move which added to the tension in Pierre Laval's government in Vichy.

News of the seizures came from private sources in Paris. American diplomatic sources were without official word but it caused no surprise, since Americans in the occupied zone are liable to internment by the Nazis as enemy aliens.

Those held were Americans who for one reason or another remained in occupied France pending negotiations for their participation.

It was assumed that if repatriation were permitted the Germans would ask for the return of an equal number of Germans in the United States.

The roundup and other incidents, especially the United States' endorsement of the British occupation of Madagascar, have served to create the most critical situation thus far in America-French relations.

With the fan-blown apparently on the up in the senate after winning an overwhelming victory in the House, the National Farmers Union asserted that "a change in the formula to determine parity price will not solve the production in telegrams sent to members of legislative chairman for the organization suggested that congress leave to the president "the matter of increasing prices or higher ceilings for certain commodities and other measures necessary for full production by and protection to agricultural producers."

A showdown on a parity compromise proposed by Democratic leader Barkley of Kentucky, was scheduled only after farm state members called up for a vote on an amendment by Senators Thomas (D-Oklahoma) and Hatch (D-N.M.), which appeared likely to be adopted despite outspoken opposition by the president and his legislative leaders.

This amendment would raise by 12 percent the lowest point at which ceilings otherwise might be placed on farm products under terms of the bill.

After a meeting with agricultural committee members, Thomas reported that an attempt was being made to reach an agreement with administration leaders on a compromise dictating President Roosevelt to lift farm price ceilings where the did not reflect farm labor costs and allow a "reasonable profit" to the grower. This proposal varied only in details from a compromise previously offered by Senator Barkley of Kentucky, and would retain the present parity standards which farm bloc members previously had sought to change.

Thomas said that if this proposal were agreed upon, he would permit it to be substituted for the amendment he has pending which would force an upward revision of parity of about 12 percent to cover increased farm labor costs.

While many senators were inclined to look upon the proposed new compromise as a virtual surrender of the farm bloc in its demand for change in the parity formula, Senator Brown (D-Mich.) said the administration might not agree to that proposal.

Further, says Mr. Murray is inviting a lot more trouble both for his organization and the entire nation after the war is over and victory is won—for when the soldiers come home they, who served for soldier's pay, will demand an accounting around the economic conference table.

They got it after the last war—and they'll get it again.

And the lightness or severity of the accounting will be determined by just how far Mr. Murray and his associates have permitted to go before an iron-clad government steps in and dispels the fairy-story illusion that war owes any wages at all to those who make munitions for the common defense.

No Pre-Session Meet of Budget Group

Little Rock, Sept. 28 — (P) — The 1943 legislature's joint budget committee will not have a pre-session meeting.

Governor Adkins said there being no change in administration, the meeting was not needed as in 1941.

The university sponsored pre-session legislative institute to familiarize new law makers with parliamentary procedure will be held at the capitol Nov. 23-24, university officials have announced.

County Surgical Dressings Quota Is Increased

Mrs. Orrie Reed, Surgical Dressings chairman of Hempstead County Red Cross production, announced Monday that workers in the Surgical Dressings rooms of the Hempstead County Production center have completed 11,500 dressings during the month of September. The finished items have been packed and are ready for immediate shipping.

Because of the casualties among men in the armed forces, the county quota for surgical dressings has been increased considerably in order to meet the demands of rising production. The present workers will be asked to give additional time to making surgical dressings, and new workers will be asked again to come to the rooms at any convenient time.

Wednesday evening the rooms will be opened under the direction of Mrs. Young Foster, Tuesday, September 29, for any woman devoted to any worker who desired help whether she is a member of a club or organization or not. Those reporting on Tuesday are reminded to bring a square of organdy for their hair and to refrain from wearing nail polish or jewelry.

Cardinals Take Pennant; Series Starts Sept. 30

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The shooting and the shouting are over for baseball's 1942 season, and the only thing left for the boys to fight about is whether the St. Louis Cardinals are a tired bad club after their skyrocket ride into the National league pennant.

Ten was served during the social hour to a large number of parents attended.

Miss Pauline Simmons Is Wed to Mr. Bernard Sunday

In a quiet and impressive ceremony at 7 o'clock Sunday evening in the First Presbyterian church, Miss Pauline Simmons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Simmons of Greenwood, Arkansas, became the bride of Dorwood Bernard of Hope.

The Rev. Dr. Thomas Brewster, pastor, read the beautiful ceremony in the presence of relatives and close friends.

Proceeding and during the service, a program of nuptial music was rendered by Mrs. C. C. McNaull organist, who used the traditional wedding marches.

Entering with the groom, the bride was lovely in a light blue ensemble, topped with a navy full-length coat. Her accessories were black. On her shoulder was pinned a corsage of tube roses.

The couple will be at home in Hope at the White House. Mr. Bernard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sol Bernard of Hillsboro, Texas.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

Wide World Sports Columnist

New York, Sept. 28 — The National League race was a thriller, all right, but we wondered if the Cards will be able to get themselves steamed up for the World Series by Wednesday . . . The Yankees, who ought to know, insist there's an inevitable letdown when the pennant is clinched, whether it happens on the last day or month before the season ends . . . Anyway, there's some consolation for Brooklyn fans. The football Dodgers are winning.

The Yankees go into the series

Wednesday as 5 to 9 favorites in the betting, in spite of such St.

Louis elbowing as may be forced by Mol Cooper and his sidekicks, among them Ernie White and Jim

Benzley, who turned the trick over the Cubs yesterday. It was in the first game, with White serving up a five-hitter, that the Cards clinched the flag by winning 9-2.

Benzley took his 21st triumph of the year in the afterpiece, in which the Cards clicked by 4-1.

Incidentally, one note of pessimism for speed-baller Cooper in the series is that no fast-ball flinger has beaten the Yanks in a single game of the six series in their current run as baseball's top outfit.

The Dodgers ended their year yesterday with a 4-3 win over the Phillies to run their closing streak to eight straight. This year the Yanks have won 10 of 12 before the season ends . . . Anyways, there's some consolation for Brooklyn fans. The football Dodgers are winning.

The Columbia-Fort Monmouth

PFC. Vinny Carbone, former West Haven, Conn., scribe, now at Camp Croft, S. If those Navy pre-flight school football teams have any weak spots, they won't have em for long.

For instance, Fed Vanzo, the blocking back from Northwestern who has been playing for the North Carolina Clodbusters during his indoctrination term, is heading for Tex. Oliver's St. Mary's Flies and N. N. Langdale, Alabama tackle, is heading for Bear Wolf's Georgia outfit . . . Argo high school Georgia is doing all right in the war.

Checkup on former coaches and players shows Julian Duvay was in the crew of the Lexington. Harold Harris took part in the Battle of Macassar Straits. Steve Duncan was wounded at Hickam Field and Ira Lambert in the Philippines. And Argo recently cancelled its game with Harvey to save tires.

Mort Cooper Scheduled to Pitch Opener

By GAYLE TALBOT

St. Louis, Sept. 28—(AP)—Without benefit of any pitching from their great man, Mort Cooper, since last Thursday, the Cardinals had the National League pennant stowed away today and were waiting calmly for their opening clash with the New York Yankees in the World Series starting Wednesday.

The fact the Cards were able to tie it up with a double victory over the Chicago Cubs, 9-2 and 4-1, without having to call on Cooper was considered very significant because it proved the Red Birds won with plenty

New York, Sept. 28—(P)—The progressive movement was reflected in selected stocks in today's market as many leaders failed to work up much rising enthusiasm.

Three Islands Are to Be Remembered

By WALTER B. CLAUSEN

Pearl Harbor, T. H., Sept. 28—(P) (Wide World)—Truk, the Palau and Saipan are three names to remember in evaluating reports of American and Allied victories in the great war of the Pacific.

Truk, the Palau and Saipan are the cornerstones of Japanese strength strategy in the Southwest Pacific. They are in the islands which Japan seized from Germany in World War I, and later took over by mandate from the League of Nations. For years they have been developed as major strongholds in the Japanese plan to carve an empire in the Southwest Pacific.

Brokers attributed most of the selling to a report that government loan rates on wheat and corn might not be raised from present levels under pending legislation. Indications that no change is to be made in computing farm parity for the produced selling. They said recent purpose of price control also in buying had been based partly on belief that loan rates and parity calculations might be changed.

TRADE

Truk is 800 miles from Rabaul in the Bismarck Archipelago and Palau is about 1400 miles.

Saipan, in the Marianas, known as the Ladrones, is 702 miles north by east of Truk, and is a vital stepping stone of Japan power.

These are but three points in the 2,550 islands of the Micronesian group which the Japanese have controlled since the world war.

Japan has perhaps a million fighting men ready for quick movement from these stepping stones, and the whole fighting resources of the Japanese empire, land, sea and air forces, can be moved quickly down this chain of communications.

It was apparently with a feeling of assurance that any movement from Australia had been neutralized.

Japan in the middle of May ordered her main fleet and a mighty invasion armada to carry out one of her major war plans, the conquest of Hawaii.

The Japanese strategic analysis seemed to be that, after the Coral Sea battle, the defense of the Hawaiian Islands had been weakened by a shifting of forces to the south to save Australia from invasion.

Then came the battle of Midway, and the move for conquest of Hawaii was crumpled. This was the first real setback, and a most costly one, that Japan had met.

Evidence has been found that the Japanese expected no real opposition to moving into and taking over Pearl Harbor. The nest of lethal horns the Japanese armada ran into west and north of Midway will rank in history as perhaps one of the greatest military surprises in history.

When the full story of Midway can be written, this will be clearly revealed. Among other things it will show that the Japanese were unprepared for opposition that the invasion group of the armada, the transports, steamed on fully 24 hours after it could have been turned back, saving many ships and lives.

This crippling blow permitted the American forces to put into execution plans for an offensive against Japan.

Military leaders know what a tough job they face. The general feeling is that the fight has just begun and it will reach its real stages when the fighting reaches Japan's own territory.

This warfare in the Pacific is a guerilla warfare. It is a fight from stepping stone to stepping stone.

The front is 7,000 miles long, from the Aleutians down to the Bismarck Archipelago and New Guinea.

While the American offensive has been started, it does not necessarily mean that the Japanese thrusts against the Pacific northwest, or another major move against the Hawaiian Islands, is by no means completely blocked.

The Japanese still hold a footing in the Aleutians. There is no indication of any exhaustion of supplies or equipment. They are still flying their fighting planes with American made gasoline.

Hostilities have been severe. But the Japanese still have aircraft carriers.

American aircraft have proved superior in operation, and American air losses have been much less in combat than the Japanese. But the Japanese still have a lot of planes.

Many other examples could be cited as to why it exasperates a military leader to hear of a Pollyanna interpretation of the successes his operations produce. He knows, as do the Mainers down in the Solomons, that the Japs are tricky, and nothing would delight the imperial headquarters in Tokyo more than to have the Americans feel that the war is practically won, so they can relax a bit.

A MODERN WIZARD

The teacher was trying to impress upon her young pupils in the tenth district the importance of being original. She illustrated by saying:

"Mickey, repeat these sentences in your own words: 'I see a cow. The cow is pretty. The cow can run.'

Mickey said—"Boy, I am a wizard, ain't she a honey? An' I ask you, kin she take it on the lumpy?"

Vols Even Dixie Series, Taking Sports 4 to 1

Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 28—(P)—The Dixie Series move to Shreveport, La., tomorrow night where the Nashville Vols and the Shreveport Sports renew hostilities in the four out of seven game classic.

The Vols evened the series at one-all yesterday when Pitcher George Jefcoat and First Baseman Jim Shilling polled their efforts to checkmate the Louisianians, 4-1. The Sports pounded out a 9-3 win in the Friday night opener.

In marking up his fourth victory in four years of Dixie Series competition, the veteran Jefcoat let the Texas League entry down with four hits, none of a dangerous variety. He virtually donated the single Shreveport run which came in the opening frame on a walk, followed by a single and a wild pitch.

Shilling put the game away in the same frame. Johnny Mihalek opened with a line single. Big Jim then blasted one of Jackie Brilhart's slants over the right field wall for a two-run home. Rattled, he Shreveport hurler hit Cal Chapman with a pitched ball and Charley English slammed his next pitch into left for a two-bagger and the Vols' third un.

Nashville tallied its only other run in the eighth on English's triple, coupled with an error.

Elie Paul Erickson, knocked out of the box by the Sports in the opener, a Vito Tamulis will pitch for the Vols in tomorrow's game. Manager Salty Parke is expected to call on Gordon Maltzberger.

AN ANTIQUARIAN

Two travelers in Ireland, returning home late one night, lost their way.

Said one—"We are in a cemetery; this is a grave stone."

"Whose is it?" asked the other.

The more sober of the two, having struck a match, said, "I don't know, but he seems to have lived to a good old age—175."

"See, can you read the name?" insisted his companion.

Another match having been lit insisted his companion.
